

TRANS/ FEMINIST HACKING

Spaces, Communities, Practices

Cornelia Sollfrank /
Yuwei Lin / Mino /
Ira Agrivine /
Asa Rahmana /
Dorothe Smit / goldjian /
Deborah Hustic /
Natalia Rozalia Avlona /
Reni Hofmüller /
Jogi Hofmüller /
Verena Kuni /
Denisa Kera / lizvlx /
Marie Kochsiek /
Marie Dietze /
Goda Klumbyte /
Raashi Saxena /
Elke Krasny / Patricia Reis /
Stefanie Wuschitz /
Lale Rodgarkia-Dara /
Taguhi Torosyan /
Paula Pin

SYMPOSIUM

12.12.19-13.12.19

Trans/feminist hacking is a hybrid, nomadic and ever-changing practice embodied through diverse communities – people living continents apart are sharing ideas, concepts, positions and attitudes, enriching them with their local spirit and historical knowledge.

This symposium gathers reflections, experiences and positions on trans/feminist hackspaces, communities and practices in order to discuss the chances as well as current challenges, detect patterns among groups and to eventually formulate common lines of thought. Within the framework of this gathering, we would like to address questions of how we can articulate these insights, and how we can practice them through art and design, open source development, community building, academia and activism.

Michelle Christensen /
Stefanie Wuschitz /
Florian Conradi

Schedule:

12.12.2019 13:00-22:00
13.12.2019 11:00-15:30

Location:

Einstein Center Digital Future
Wilhelmstraße 67
10117 Berlin

Registration:

Please register by the 10.12.2019 to:
michelle.christensen@tu-berlin.de

